

UN WITH YOUR Typewriter

TELLS YOU HOW TO—

- Get art work out of your typewriter, with nothing but standard keys and a black-and-red ribbon.
- Make your own greeting cards and bookplates, with rich borders.
- Produce artistic sketches without paintbrush or pencil—for bridge tallies, invitations, monogram stationery, place cards, notices of church suppers or high school dances.
- Use your new typing talent in the office—on stencil paper—to make puckish cartoons for sales letters and to create ingenious direct-mail ads.

TYPEWRITER CARTOONING IS FUN - AND SO EASY!
CAN YOU TYPE WITH ONE FINGER? EVEN THOUGH YOU USE
THE OLD "HUNT & PECK" SYSTEM, YOU CAN COPY DOTTIE'S PICTURE - AND ALL OF THE CARTOONS AND DESIGNS IN THIS BOOK.

The easy, "dictated," line-by-line instructions enable you to

ILLUSTRATE PERSONAL LETTERS WITH FUNNY FACE CARTOONS

PRINT PERSONALIZED GREETING CARDS - like this

SCRAPBOOK COVERS
BRIDGE TALLIES

INVITATIONS
PERSONAL BOOK PLATES
MONOGRAM STATIONERY

and, in the office, you'll be able to illustrate sales letters and bulletins by "typing" amusing cartoons and headings in large letters on stencils.
You'll find countless uses for the five typewriter alphabets and hundreds of cartoons and greeting card designs. The keys of your typewriter will unlock a whole new world of entertainment - AND PRACTICAL USE - when you turn that typewriter into a personal printing press and cartooning machine.

THIS IS THE LAZIEST
METHOD OF CARTOONING

IF YOU'RE A SPEEDY
TOUCH SYSTEM TYPIST
- SKIP THIS PAGE.
I'VE TURNED AROUND TO PASS ALONG SOME
"INSIDE STUFF" FOR ONE-FINGER TYPISTS.

Let's take a quick look at your typewriter keyboard. The shift key makes all of the characters do double duty, turning small letters into capitals - and the top row of keys gives you " # $ % _ & ' () and *. Remember to use the shift key whenever instructions call for the above characters, then simply follow the easy, line-by-line instructions and strike each character called for.

You never have to touch the platen (roller to you) and there's absolutely no tricky sliding of paper around to get certain effects. STANDARD SPACING IS USED IN DOING EVERYTHING.

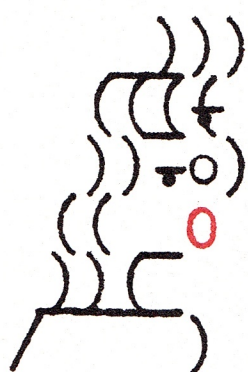

A black and red record typewriter ribbon will give your cartoons red lips and gaily colored clothing. Typewriter ribbons may also be purchased in purple, blue, brown and green - and typing on drawing paper in pastel or bright colors will add to the attractiveness of your greeting cards.

You'll surprise everyone - and yourself - with the almost endless variations you'll be able to make in typewriter cartooning - amazing because there are so few characters on a typewriter keyboard that can be used. For instance, there's no character giving you a vertical line - but just wait until you see what you can do with a few characters.

Emily Post says typewritten notes and letters are now socially correct - so go right ahead and add something new - illustrate them with humorous cartoons.

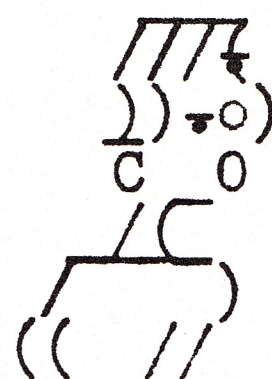

I'm going to give each of the cartoons shown on the following pages a name - then when you're ready to copy a certain one, just turn to the index, and opposite each name you'll find the number of the page giving the typing instructions, in the HOW TO SECTION in the back of the book.

GREETINGS

Greeting

Here's where the real fun begins - "typing" greeting cards, featuring personal names, such as

Happy Birthday

Tom

Purchase greeting cards if you like and add the personal name - however, it's real fun to design an original card.

The following typewriter alphabets will enable you to create book plates, scrap book covers, place cards and many other items. Create a lot of amusement next time you entertain by typing the smaller cartooned heads on paper napkins, adding the name of a guest beneath each - or, use one of the alphabets to make a hostess gift - a package of napkins bearing the family name, like this

THE DEAN

Use gaily colored paper for your greeting cards and a red and black record ribbon on your machine will add to the effect. Fold the sheet crosswise, then lengthwise to form a French Fold. Type the greeting design and personal name on the outside - and inside use the smallest alphabet to carry a message - then sign, or "type" your own name.

It's easy to make envelopes to fit your cards. A 9" x 12" sheet can be folded to fit most any card.
Make the envelope in a bright color. Place the card on the sheet straight across the bottom, leaving an equal margin on each side. Make a cross-wise fold a half-inch above the height of the card, then fold the top down to make the flap. Unfold the sheet and fold in each side, allowing room enough for the card to slide in easily.

Dogs, horses and humorous cartooned heads will give you ideas for other birthday cards.

Ducks, birds and flower designs are suitable for Easter Greeting Cards.

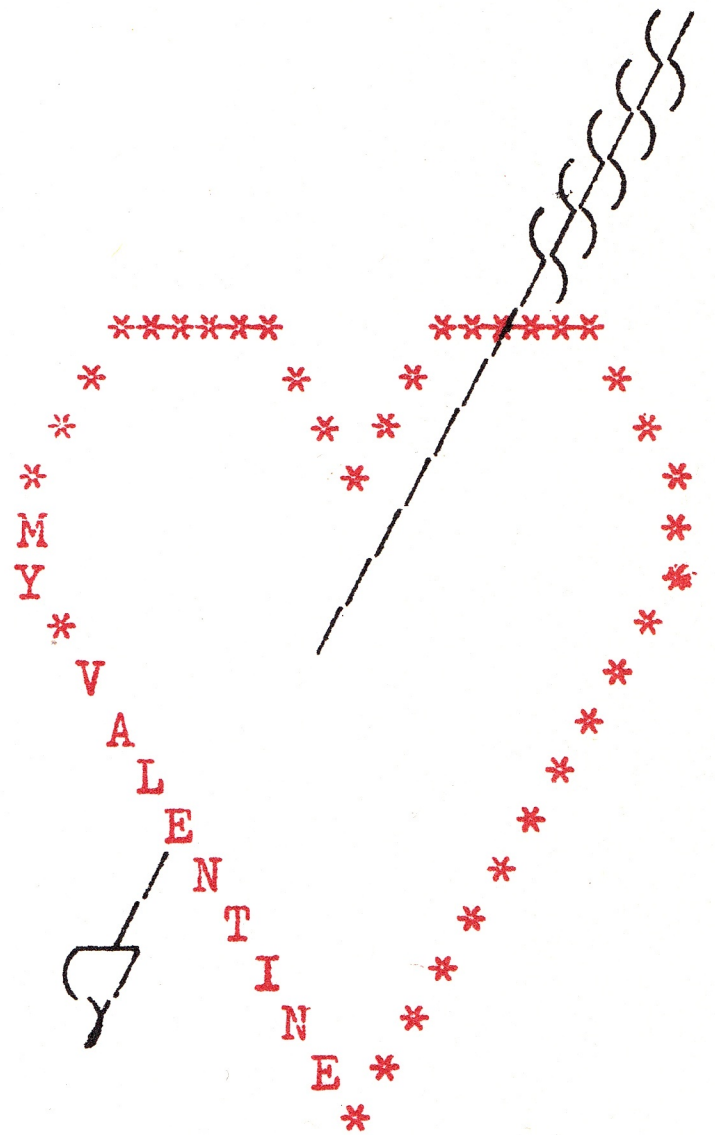

This design would be attractive typed with a purple ribbon, on pastel paper, yellow or green. Write, or type, a personal message inside. Punch two small holes in the fold of the outside cover and insert narrow ribbon, tying it in a bow.

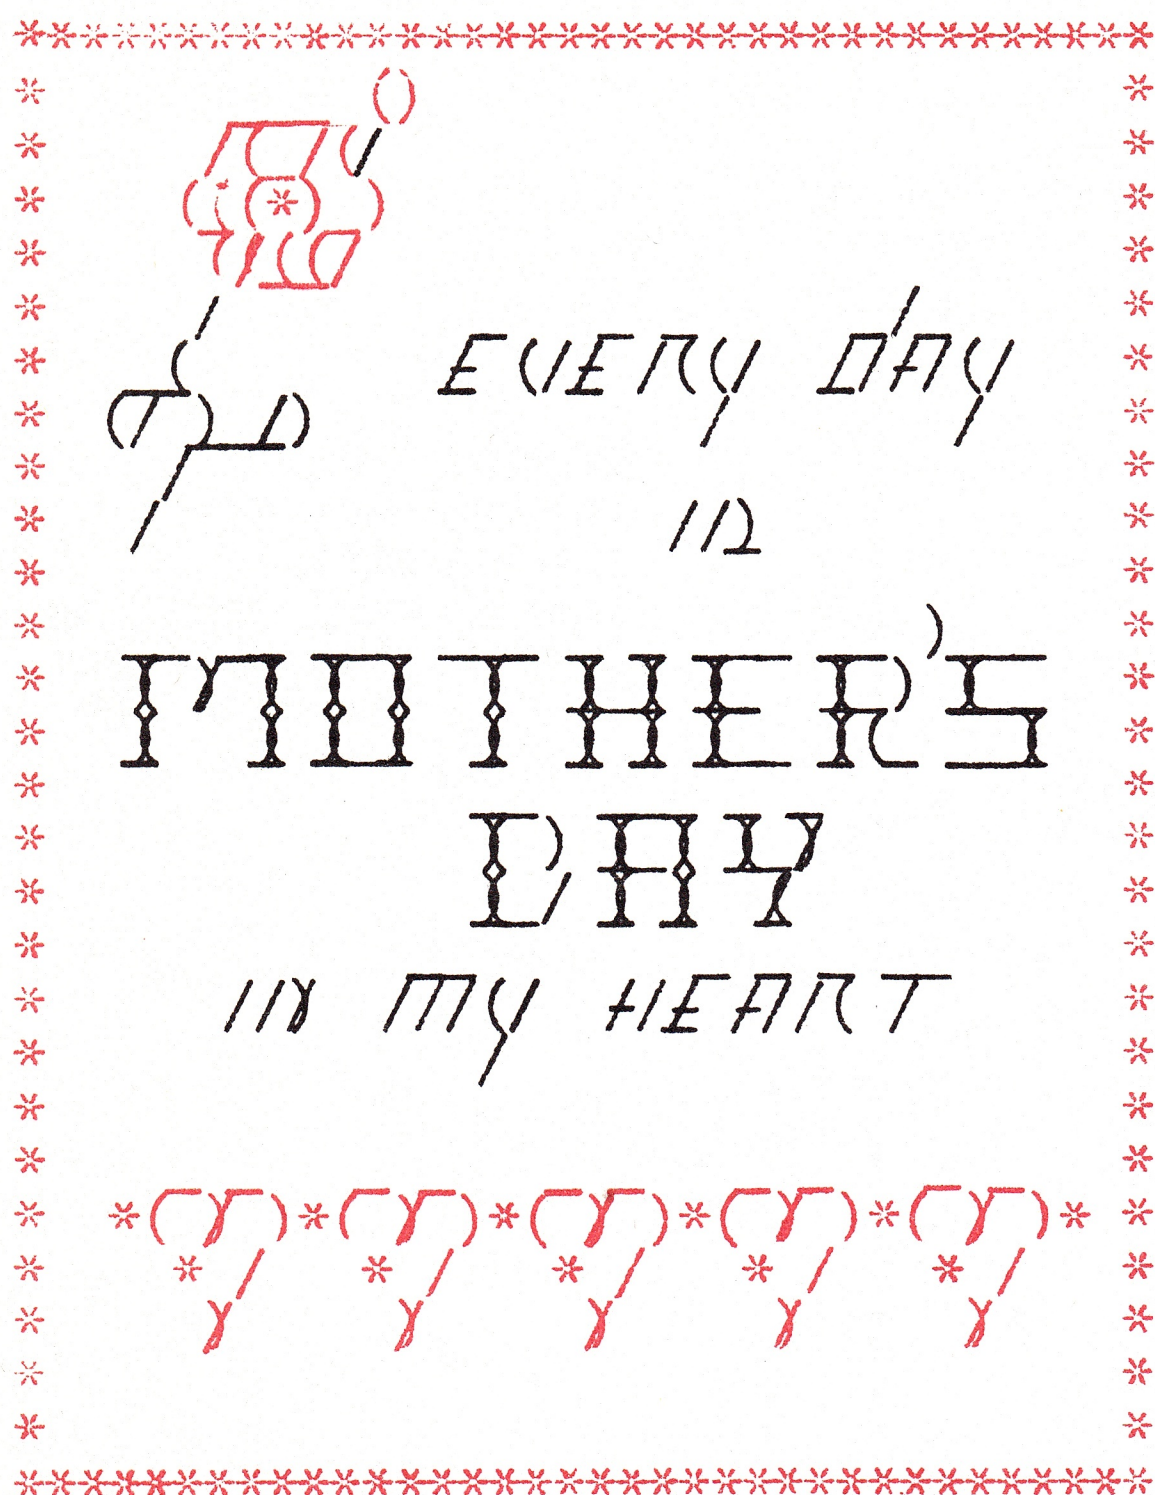

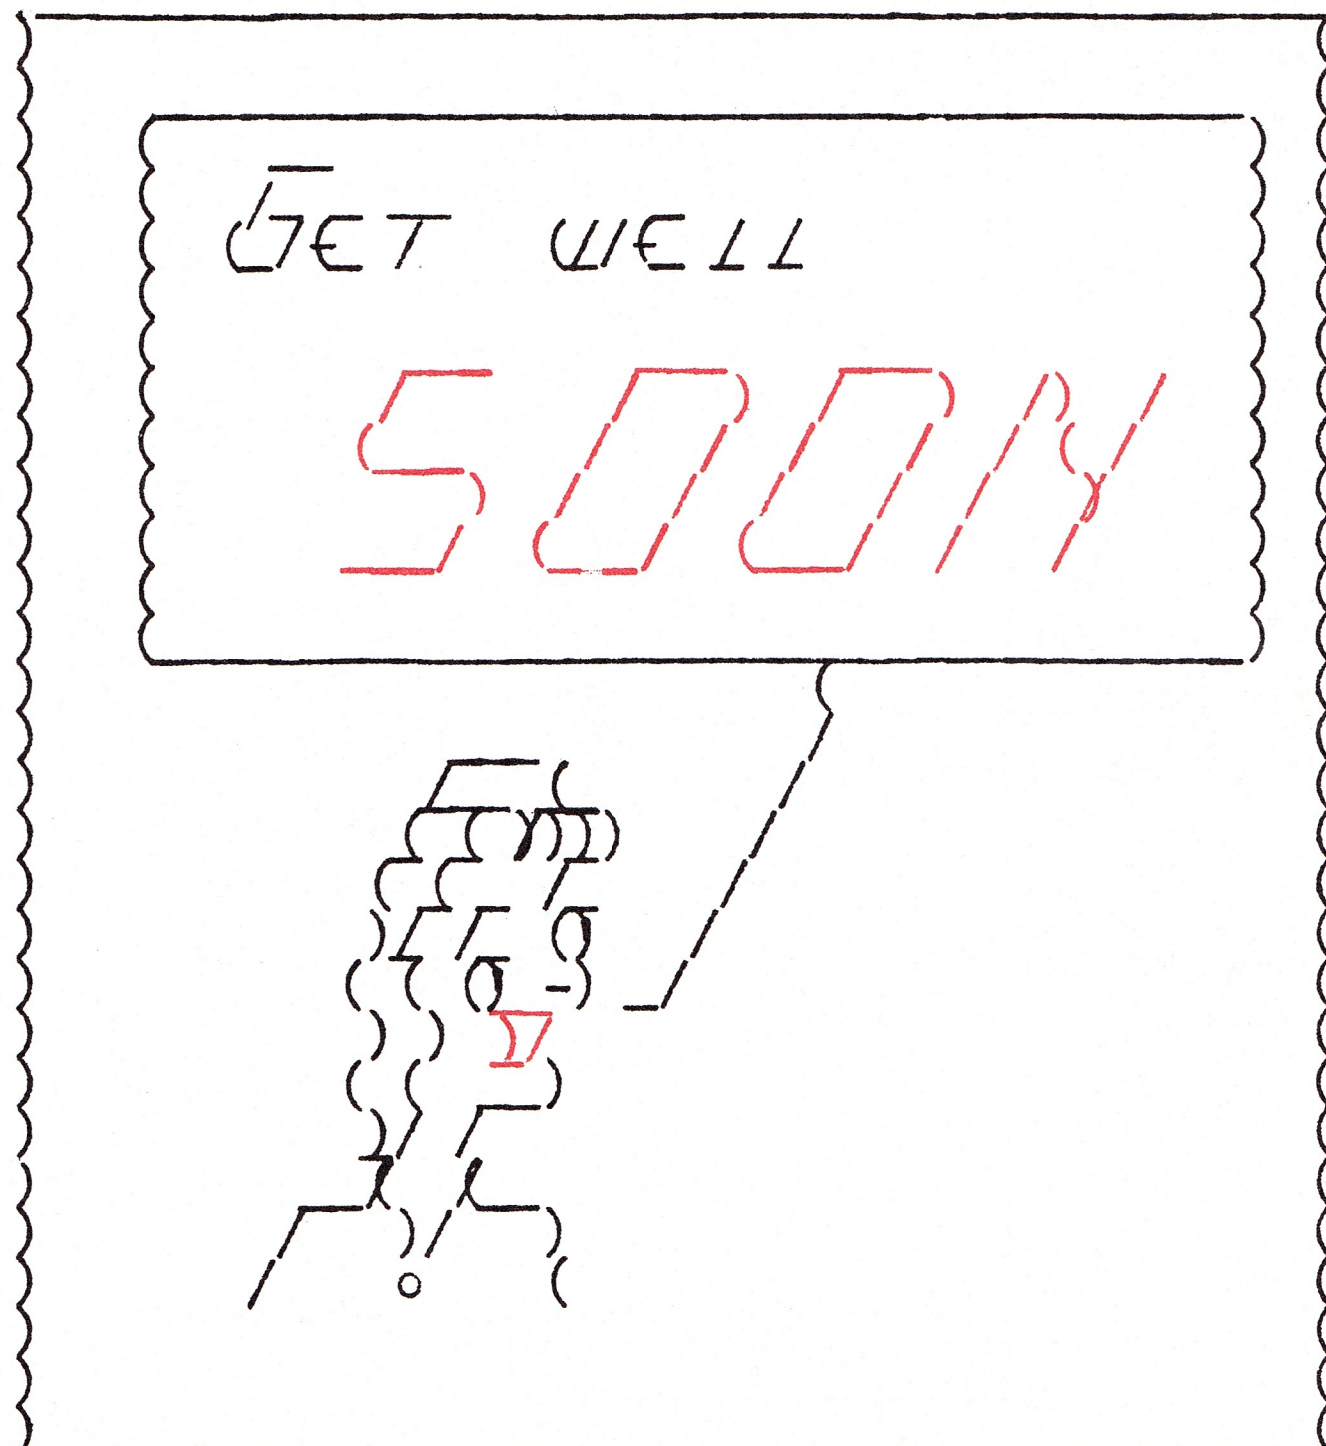

Another very appropriate design for a Wedding Anniversary Greeting Card is the Calendar Sheet, carrying the wedding date.

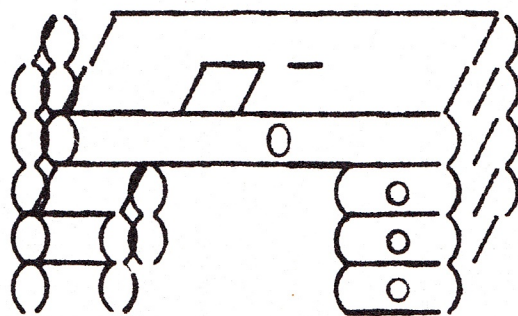

Add the name of your "Valentine" to this card - on the heart, above the heart on the cover, or inside the folder.

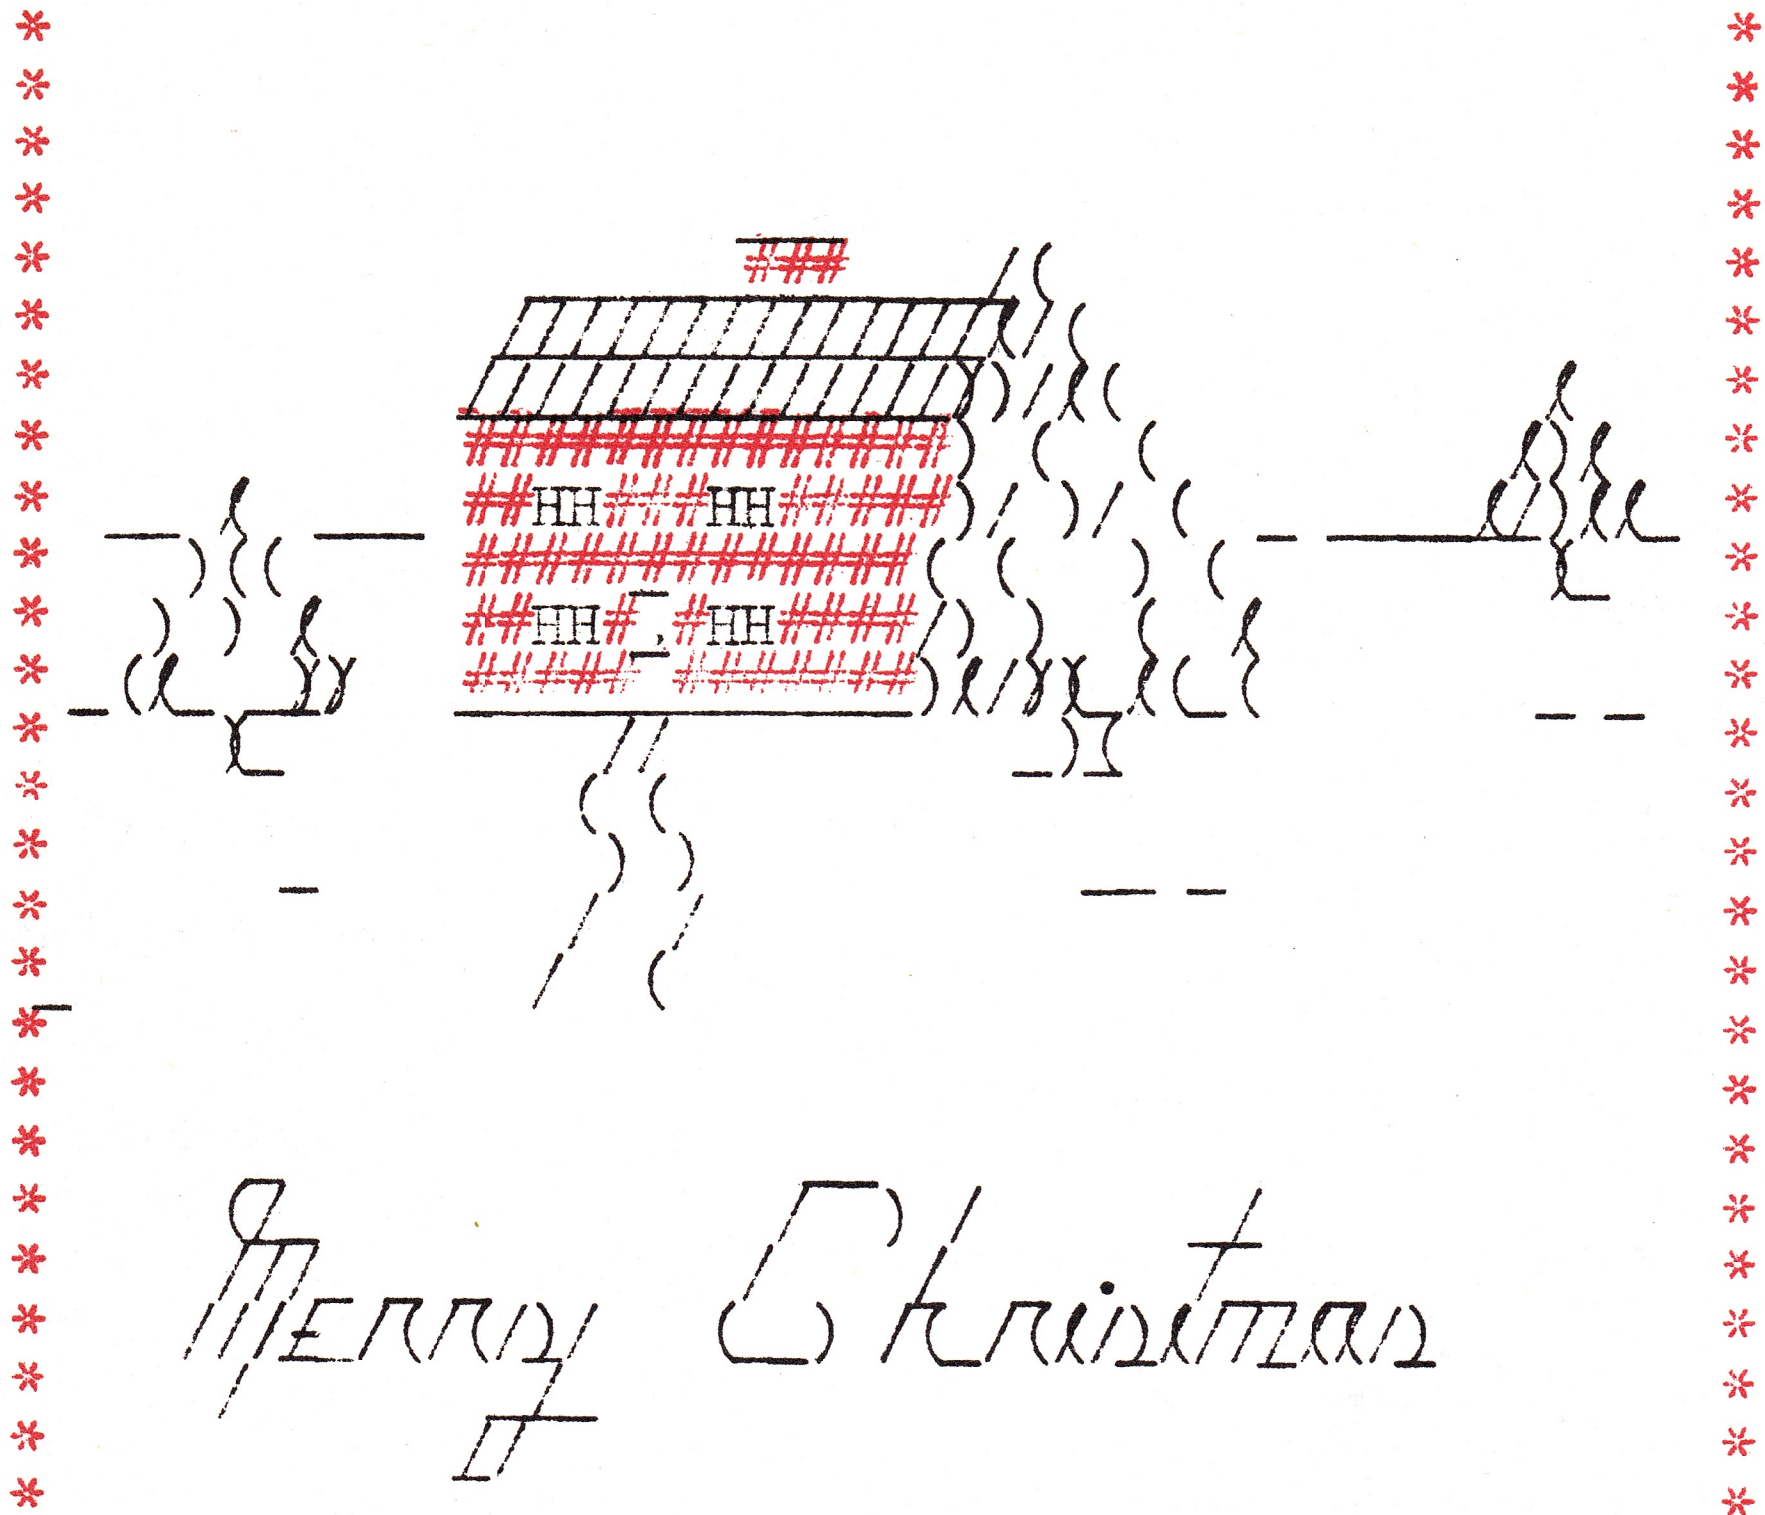

Any humorous cartooned
head is appropriate to speak this "Get Well" message

It's easy to type a bookmark on satin ribbon. Use Scotch tape to fasten ribbon to a sheet of paper. Copy the Book design above - or use any of the smaller designs shown herein.

Designs on ribbon also add to the attractiveness of greeting cards. Paste them on the front, or cut out a square window in a French Fold and place your design on the page behind this.

HOW-TO SECTION - TYPING INSTRUCTIONS

Set marginal stop for the position on the sheet in which you wish to place your cartoon or letter - and always back the carriage to stop before starting each line of instructions.

Three abbreviations are used in the instructions - as follows:

Space will be shown as sp

Backspace will be shown as bs

Underline will be shown as ul

ul has been used for the underline mark to save confusion between it and the dash, which will always be shown as - and each character or abbreviation is shown first, with the number of times it is to be typed shown directly following it. Each one is divided by commas, thus a line reading

Space eleven, underline six, backspace four, asterisk one, capital O one, backspace one, period one, dash one will read as follows:

sp 11, ul 6, bs 4, * 1, O 1, bs 1, . 1, - 1.

DORA FLORA SEXTETTE.

Instructions are for one Chorus Girl. Type a Sister Act, Trio, Quartette, Quintette or Sextette - by repeating the instructions. The number of spaces between Chorines is given at the end of each line. Substitute this number for the number of spaces given at the beginning of each line. Start your Chorus Line 1-3/4 inches from left hand edge of sheet if you're typing the Sextette - this gives you room to design your own Proscenium Arch and back drop.

NEVER underestimate the power of your typewriter. Just fancy spending minutes at your machine to create gay portraits of family and friends; inventive, personal-touch birthday and Christmas cards; funny cartoons; attention-getting direct-mail ads; amusing sketches for sales letters.

Whether you work in an office or stay at home, you can make your day's round of duties more enjoyable and profitable by resorting to Fun with Your Typewriter, which offers an irresistibly easy way of turning a typewriter into an art medium. You don't have to get a commercial artist to draw eye-catching illustrations for business circulars. And, in folk-art style, you can put romantic hearts-and-flowers designs into personal letters. Let your eight typing fingers and the space bar do art work on the typewriter.

As you turn the pages of this book, you will find 260 cartoons, 17 greeting cards, 5 bookplates, 20 borders, and 5 entirely new alphabets created out of standard typewriter characters. All of it is done with standard spacing, without freeing the roller or sliding the paper.

Easy-to-follow instructions tell you what to do line by line. Your own imagination will provide endless variations.

Madge Roemer has prepared a clever book loaded with ideas. Open it, sit down at your typewriter, follow the how-the-trick-is-done instructions, discover your talent, and have fun!
